Police Court Crowded to Hear Testimony in Case Against Harry Sills, Proprietor of Crystal Gardens Charged With Disorderly Conduct by Officer Roedell.

The reason why Police Court was crowded to hear testimony in the case against Harry Sills, proprietor of Crystal Gardens on Central Broadway, following the battle royal between the pair during the early morning of Friday, May 26, was because the officer believed the arrest would hamper Sills in obtaining a beer license. That was the testimony given by Officer Roedell this morning when Sills was tried on a charge of disorderly conduct, locked against him by the officer. The case was continued in police court this afternoon with Attorney Chris J. Flanagan and Attorney William A. Kasper appearing for the officer, and Attorney Robert Howard and Attorney Frank W. Brooks for Sills. According to the officer's testimony, the warrant for Sills' arrest was sworn out several days later, after the officer had been called in by Chief of Police J. Allan Wood and asked his version of the battle.

After the usual motions had been made to dismiss the case, Officer Roedell was called as the first witness. He said that he had been a member of the police force for 12 years, and was on duty in uniform on the early morning of May 26 last when Sills came out of Crystal Gardens, and after some conversation, between Sills and the officer, the officer said that Sills suddenly grasped him by both arms, "pave the way" and tripped him and that Sills held him down on the sidewalk for a minute or more with Sills' knee in the officer's stomach. Roedell said he demanded Sills to let him up several times before Sills complied.

Sills' first said cop. "Then," said the officer, "I missed my night stick and I stepped toward Sills, and as I did so Sills swung at me and struck me on the jaw."

Roedell said that after Sills struck him on the jaw and knocked him down four or five times.

On cross-examination by Attorney Howard, Roedell said he did not remember how many times he had knocked Sills down as he did not keep track of them. However, the officer said he had given Sills a good beating.

The start of the affair according to the testimony was when the officer went into the Crystal Gardens and asked that there be less noise as the people in the neighborhood could not sleep. Roedell said he made the request of one Kearney who was behind the bar serving champagne.

Roedell said that Kearney must have told Sills that he had requested less noise for Sills came out and said he, the officer, was evidently the only one who heard any noise.

Roedell said he told Sills that he, Sills, was looking for a beer license and that was no way to start out. Roedell said Sills told him to never mind about the license, he would get one.

After some further conversation the officer said Sills grabbed him and threw him.

"No Wrestler," said Roedell. "I am no wrestler," Officer Roedell told Attorney Howard.

"I know you are not," replied the attorney.

Attorney Howard in his cross examination attempted to bring out that Officer Roedell had fought for money and thus was a professional fighter. He also asked Roedell several times if he, Roedell, had not told Sills after the battle that he had had several drinks in Morgan's place before the racket.

Officer Roedell also denied striking the first blow and said that after Sills had struck him he had defended himself. Roedell said he had not been drinking that night.

"Did you ever win a fight?" asked Attorney Howard suddenly.

"Well he won this one," interrupted Attorney Flanagan while the court room shook with laughter.

"How many times did you knock Sills down?" asked Attorney Howard.

"I don't know; I did not keep track of them," replied Roedell.

Agreed to Forget It. After the battle the officer testified he helped Sills up and told him that he had decided not to place him under arrest as it might hamper Sills in obtaining a license to sell beer.

Roedell testified that after the battle both he and Sills had agreed to forget what happened and that they both shook hands.

During the cross examination it developed that after the battle Officer Fallon, Burger and Harman appeared on the scene. Roedell said he told the officers to go back as they were not needed. He said he told the other policemen that he and Sills had had a little "muss" but that Sills was badly beaten up and he, Roedell, thought he was punished enough.

Leppo Saw Fight. Ray Leppo, of Saugerties, who was a witness called by Attorney Flanagan. According to Leppo he saw a man named Shultz had driven into Kingston from Saugerties and was just passing Sills' place in time to see the fight.

Leppo said that he saw the officer on his back on the sidewalk and on top of the officer. According to Leppo's version Roedell was taken from under Sills and got on his back.

Spectators Found a "Bee Tree" in Front Of Local Court House

Amateur Reforestation Army Advancing Removal of Tree on Court House Grounds Turns Attention to "Bee Tree"—May Get Honey.

The amateur reforestation army, which has been a constant sight on the past few days at the court house where a large maple tree was in the process of being cut down, has ceased to give advice as to just how the workman should proceed with the work and has now turned its attention to nature study. During the process of watching the desired maple tree disappear one of the self-appointed foremen cast a casual glance at the other maple tree which stands across the walk, probably with the idea of getting a line on how that tree should be handled in case it developed that it should be removed. Much to his surprise he discovered a number of bees buzzing about the tree. The attention of another self-appointed foreman was called to the fact and he being an expert in another line immediately pronounced the tree a "bee tree."

Speculation then was started as to whether or not a bee tree was located on the court house yard and for hours the army watched the tree. High up on one of the branches a swarm of bees could be seen in and out of a tiny hole on the branch. This confirmed the opinion of the expert. There is a "bee tree" on the court house property.

Some of the bees were able to supply his boarders with delicious honey this fall if someone can be found who is able to solve the problem of getting out the honey. Much speculation is going on as to how much honey the large tree might contain.

In the case of Bernard McDonald, also an abandonment charge, the court directed payment of $4 a week.

District Attorney Cleon B. Murray requested that the indictment against Sadie and Harry Horowitz be dismissed. The indictment charged failure to procure compensation coverage. The indictment was dismissed as the compensation department stated that payment had been made.

INCOME TAXES PART OF NEW SENATE INQUIRY

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Senate investigators have scrutinized the income tax returns of members of Kuhn, Loeb & Company in preparation for the inquiry next week into the firm's operations, but will give no inkling of what they found.

The investigators said, the quest for facts not only will follow the general lines of the J. P. Morgan & Company study but also will cover new ground.

Those in touch with the Kuhn, Loeb case said today the hearing would include a thorough study of the firm's participation in financing the Penn Road Corporation, holding company subsidiary of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

First charges when the Kuhn, Loeb case was under way last Tuesday will be Otto H. Kahn, senior partner and famous art patron, who will play the same role in this inquiry that J. P. Morgan, senior partner of the House of Morgan, played in the last.

Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, now in New York, is expected to arrive in Washington Monday night to give the committee, in executive session before the investigation formally opens, an outline of his course of inquiry.

RAILROADS POSTPONE PROPOSED PAY CUTS

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Railroads have heeded a plea of the administration to postpone until June 30, 1934, a proposed 12 1/2 per cent pay cut for their workers.

As a result, organized railroad labor will continue to work on the present schedule—the old basic wage, less 10 per cent. But that time government and railroad both hope all need for pay cuts will be passed.

This agreement between railroad managers and labor executives was the first big achievement of Joseph B. Eastman since he became coordinator of transportation.

The record may yet be ratified by individual unions belonging to the Railway Labor Executive Association, but that is considered just a formality.

Scramble For 30,000 Jobs Is Expected As Patronage Begins In Sales Tax Returns

Deserving Democrats Must Qualify For Jobs In Appointment—Bringing Pressure to Bear on Postmaster General Farley.

Washington, June 22 (AP)—The federal job market was expected to be flooded with applicants as soon after President Hoover's return from his vacation as to get them for themselves may have been an insistent demand that the postmaster general should be called on to make the selection.

Directors of new federal enterprises in which most of the jobs are to be created are declaring that political support will not applicants who are not qualified by training and experience. But James A. Farley, postmaster general and patronage leader, is not believed with increasing pressure by senators and representatives and committee-men whose constituents have until now been satisfied of a special committee of representatives recently set up to push Farley, is now exceedingly active scouting out job possibilities both under the new industrial, public works, relief, farm and other emergency acts of the last Congress and in the existing departments and agencies of government.

Estimates of the number of jobs to be available run as high as 25,000 or 30,000.

Farley expects early appointment of collectors of internal revenue and district attorneys, marshals and custom collectors, all customarily party jobs. Since announcement that Republican postmasters will not be ousted before their terms end, so long as their service is satisfactory, he has been swamped with complaints and demands for investigation of this postmaster and that.

Wilford B. Hancock of Live Oaks, Fla., Turned Over to Department of Justice Agent and Arraigned Before U. S. Commissioner Connolly.

This morning an agent from the Department of Justice called at police headquarters and the police, who had been holding Wilford B. Hancock, 39, of Live Oaks, Fla., on a technical charge of abduction since the death Sunday afternoon of Miss Hazel Burnett, 17, of Live Oaks, turned Hancock over to the agent and later in the morning Hancock was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Arthur C. Connolly, on a charge of violating the Mann Act, and committed to the county jail to await the arrival of a U. S. marshal.

Chief of Police Wood stated that he believed Hancock would probably be given a hearing in Federal court. Hancock and the girl came to Kingston about two weeks ago, and he obtained a job with a dry cleaning establishment. They roomed at 77 Pearl street. The girl became ill and was removed to the Benedictine Hospital where she died of pneumonia.

The body of the girl was shipped south to her relatives by Coroner W. Norman Conner who had gotten in communication with her family.

Jury Returns With Verdict of Acquittal on All Counts After 24 Hours—Charged With Failure To Report a Payment of $666,666 From National City Company and That He Had Made Sham Stock Sales—Too Moved to Talk.

Twenty-nine of the new appointees are examiners, who will check over the income returns. The other 11 include file clerks, accountants and stenographers.

BARBARA HUTTON MARRIED IN A RELIGIOUS CEREMONY

Paris, June 22 (AP)—Barbara Hutton, granddaughter of the late Frank W. Woolworth and heiress to many of his millions, and Prince Alexis Mdivani, were married in a religious ceremony this afternoon at the Russian Church of Paris.

Their civil marriage took place two days ago in the City Hall of the Passy district of Paris.

The religious rites were conducted by the High Priest Smirnov, assisted by three other priests, and were solemnized by the picturesque exchange of rings and "crowning" of the Russian Orthodox service.

By a marriage contract signed before the ceremony, the bride, who is one of the richest heiresses in America, retained control and disposition of her fortune, estimated at $20,000,000. Friends of the prince, however, stated that he had received a large marriage settlement.

Due to the recent death of the bridegroom's father, Prince Zachary Mdivani, the marriage service was witnessed only by relatives and intimate friends. They stood throughout the forty-five minute ceremony, since there are no seats in the church.

BOARD AWAITS REPLY TO LETTER OF PROTEST.

Albany, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Henry S. Manier, counsel to the State Milk Control Board, said today the board would await a reply to a letter of protest sent the Civil Service Commission before deciding whether to fight for the right to retain 26 staff employees whom the commission wants to oust.

The letter to the commission was written by Commissioner of Agriculture Charles H. Baldwin, chairman of the Milk Board. Commissioner Baldwin refused to divulge its contents until the Civil Service body, meeting at New York today, had had an opportunity to reply.

It was learned, however, that the letter contained a strenuous protest against the commission's order. The protest was based on the contention that loss of the trained staff employees would be irreparable to the work of the board. The board feels, one member said, that efforts of the Civil Service Commission to replace these employees with appointees from its own list of eligibles is the first move in an attempt to replace all of the board's 50 staff members.

SENDS EMISSARY TO FATHER ON MARRIAGE.

Evans—Lee-Bains, France, June 22 (AP)—The former Prince of Asturias sent an emissary today to his father, former King Alfonso of Spain, begging forgiveness for his marriage yesterday to a Cuban girl.

His bride, meanwhile, kept to the hotel during the first day of their honeymoon with a slight fever, the result of the excitement and fatigue of yesterday's ceremony at Lausanne.

Don Manuel Almagro, a Spanish grandee who was the former prince's witness at the wedding, has come to Fontainebleau seeking reconciliation with Alfonso and pardon for marrying against his wishes.

The emissary told the Associated Press they were "very happy."

Charles E. Mitchell Freed On Charge Of Income Tax Evasion

Jury Returns With Verdict of Acquittal on All Counts After 24 Hours—Charged With Failure To Report a Payment of $666,666 From National City Company and That He Had Made Sham Stock Sales—Too Moved to Talk.

Albany, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Charles E. Mitchell, former president of the National City Company, was freed today after a 24-hour trial on charges of income tax evasion. The jury returned a verdict of acquittal on all counts after 24 hours. Mitchell was charged with failure to report a payment of $666,666 from the National City Company in 1929, and that he had made sham stock sales to make it appear that he had suffered such heavy income loss that he owed no tax in 1929 and 1930.

The stock sale in 1929 was to Mitchell's wife, and the one in 1930 to W. D. Thornton, president of the Greene Cananea Copper Company.

The jury had been instructed that it could convict or acquit on all the charges together, or could convict or acquit on any one charge.

The jury returned for instructions three times, once yesterday and twice today. It was at the conclusion of the third appearance of the jury in the courtroom that the verdict acquitting Mitchell on all counts was returned.

Mitchell leaped to his feet as he heard the word, "not guilty," pronounced in a low voice by James K. Campbell, foreman, and started the band of Dixie D. Stewart, his counsel. His face was ashy and his eyes filled with tears. When asked he left the courtroom, while the jurors were still on the bench.

Licenses Revoked And Suspended

Albany, N. Y., June 21—Three hundred and sixty-one certificates of automobile registration and licenses to drive were revoked or suspended by the commissioner of motor vehicles during the two weeks ended June 12. Of these cases 179 will require proof of financial responsibility before applications for new licenses will be considered. There were 16 revocations and 155 suspensions in New York city and vicinity, and 44 revocations and 121 suspensions in other parts of the state.

In the Albany district there were 17 revocations and 14 suspensions. Six of the suspensions were for failure to file omnibus bonds, the names of those involved not being published.

Suspensions in this vicinity included: Alfred J. Dalber, failure to give proof of financial responsibility; Lew Cooklin of Rosendale, and Marion O'Donnell, Mount Marlon, both for reckless driving.

PINE HILL
Pine Hill, June 21—Samuel Shapiro has a large force of men employed building a swimming pool for the Oltrevora Country Club Hotel, owned and operated by Cohen & Nager.

Harold Persons has recently redecorated the interior of the Crescent ice cream parlor.

Mr. and Mrs. Fayette Smith and family of Passaic, N. J., arrived in town Friday for the summer. They will occupy the residence of Susan Cole on Academy street.

Large crowds were in attendance at the medicine show here last week.

"White" on Moths Ultraviolet
Butterflies and moths, as seen by each other, are very different from the way they appear to human beings, because they see ultraviolet radiations and reflections beyond the range of the eye of man. The American Museum of Natural History has demonstrated this by taking photographs of butterflies, moths and flowers in which only the ultraviolet patterns were visible. It was found, for instance, that all patches and spots on butterflies and moths which appear to be Chinese white to the human eye were in reality a deep ultraviolet in hue. Other white shades were also found to be ultraviolet when seen by the insects.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Professor Bennett Discusses Poetry

Professor Bruce Bennett, of New Paltz Normal School, entertained the members and guests of the guests of the Kingston Rotary Club Wednesday noon with a discussion on poetry. During the course of his talk the speaker read several poems by modern writers of verse. Poems that were models of technique and direct statement.

Guests at the meeting were Wendell Phillips of Port Jervis and Walter Elston, Jr., of this city. The day's program was in charge of David Burgevin.

TABASCO
Tabasco, June 21—Everyone is sorry to hear that Mrs. Harry Sokol of Mombasus is in such a critical condition. Her many friends wish for her a rapid recovery.

Dances are being held every Saturday night at Accord. Large crowds are attending these Saturday night dances and reporting such nice times. Music is furnished by the Pinola orchestra. This Saturday night the dance will take the form of a depression dance to which the public is cordially invited.

Clara Margaret Young and friend, Lester A. Wynkoop, were pleasant callers on Tuesday evening at the home of Celia Kelder and brother, Charles Krom.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wynkoop, Sr., and son, James, were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Keaton.

A social event of the coming week-end is the Saturday night dance to be held in the Rothberg hall.

Mrs. Florence Wynkoop and two children, Roy and Julian, were pleasant callers at their former home in Lehigh on Sunday.

Mrs. Morris Rothberg left for New York city on Monday, where she will spend a few days with relatives and friends.

A Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON—The Democratic party in the senate against the reduction in compensation to veterans may have a checkered record. A checkered record of the official impressions as to the House in the charged political front on Capitol Hill.

It is concerned that group of independent republicans led by Senator George Norris, and, although the President's program won out in the end, there were lively moments before this result was secured.

During all the previous trying and protracted experiences of the administration one might have gotten the impression that this group was about the only tranquil one in Washington.

It was unusual for these independent too. Ordinarily the independent in congress are the tempestuous ones that bring grief to those in authority.

Of course, it's true that "Young Bob" La Follette of Wisconsin broke loose for a while during the senate's investigation of the house of Morgan. He endeavored to prove to the senate that a part of the opposition

As Some Saw It
Political observers in the capital thought they had explanations for their tranquility. Some believed that it was because many of them had backed Roosevelt in the campaign and thus had a man of their own choosing in the White House.

Others, pointing to the Roosevelt legislative program, asked why the independent republicans should raise a howl. Weren't they seeing many of the principles of government for which they have fought so long being written into the law?

Those may or may not have been the reasons for the spirit of cooperation shown by that group toward the administration before the revolt of veterans' compensation.

Then They Balked
But they did kick over the traces on that issue and in typical fashion. If you can picture a man with the reputation for insubordination that George Norris of Nebraska has, to say nothing of every other member of his group, lined up in the same voting column with Old Guard and various other republicans—then you have it.

Perhaps the action of the independent was just another affirmation of the credo of independence subscribed to by all in the group.

Monday on Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Decker of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Krom of Kingston were pleasant callers on Monday in the home of Celia Kelder and brother, Charles Krom.

A survey indicates that 1,155,000 persons entered Miami, Fla., during the year ended March 15 last.

Police Still Wait For Beer List Here

From what could be learned the Kingston police department as yet has received no list from the Ulster county beer control board as to what places have been granted licenses to sell beer. The Newburgh police department faced the same problem, but Chief Brown notified the Orange county board that if it suggested action on the part of the police department it would have to cooperate in furnishing a list. The list was furnished and made public in the Newburgh newspaper.

New motor oil shows America how to get 28½% more miles per quart

MEASURING THE EXACT AMOUNT OF OIL placed in each of the test cars. Representatives of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association tested Gulf-lube against leading brands of 25c oil in 6 borrowed cars—and Gulf-lube stood up 28½% longer before a quart of oil had to be added.

Gulf-lube wins
amazing test with borrowed cars of different makes

SIX AVERAGE CARS—from new to several years old—were borrowed from their owners and placed on the Indianapolis Speedway.

In these cars, representatives of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association tested four of America's leading brands of 25c oils.

In a 4-day grind around the track, at a constant speed of 45 miles an hour, these cars tested each of the competing oils.

And, at the end of the test, Gulf-lube had beaten every oil in every car! In Car No. 2, for example,—when oil "C" was replaced with Gulf-lube, consumption dropped from a quart every 652 miles to a quart every 1447 miles!

And, averaging the figures for all cars, Gulf-lube cut the oil costs on these cars 28½%!

Buy less oil—get better lubrication

Switch to Gulf-lube now. You'll buy less oil. And you'll get better lubrication. Try it! It's the finest motor oil a quarter ever bought. Get it at any Gulf station.

1930
3 YEARS OLD—One of the cars borrowed for this test run had piled up thousands of miles on its speedometer—yet Gulf-lube cut its oil consumption in the bout!

1931
2 YEARS OLD—Pistons and rings in this car had never been replaced—but that made no difference to Gulf-lube! For Gulf-lube maintained every competing oil tested in this car by a wide margin!

1932
1 YEAR OLD—This roadster was in good average mechanical shape, with pistons and rings well "broken in" but not worn. And again Gulf-lube carried off top honors against other leading 25c motor oils!

1933
BRAND-NEW—This car's mileage was little over 1000 miles. Rings and pistons were tight and oil consumption was low. Yet even in this almost new car, Gulf-lube lasted 37.4 more miles per quart than the average of the competing oils!

Fashions, by Eleanor Gunn

Follow the Green or the Red Line

New York—When you are in Rome, do as the Romans do—wear Roman stripes. Wear any kind of stripes, for that matter, if your ideas run that way. It now appears as though the great majority prefer dashes to dots.

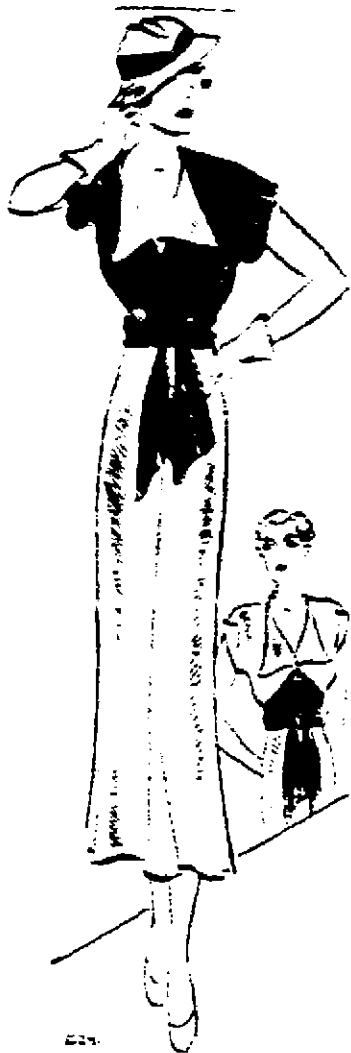

Striped dresses were everywhere, seen particularly smart when fashioned of striped material, no matter what its type. A black novelty cotton with pencil stripes in white was chic as chic could be. It had a turnover collar which seemed to call for a bow tie, and wouldn't you know that a woman smart enough to have chosen such a dress would be smart enough to have an assortment of bows and matching hats? Bright green, lacquer red, white, and vivid blue were the colors she selected. With some of them, there were gloves to match.

Flannels are everywhere, striped and otherwise. We are already seeing the effect of the persistent reports from overseas that gray flannel leads. Here again one may rise in changes by introducing different colored accessories. There is a soft dusty pink that is very often combined with gray. Other smart women take their cue from their male escorts and are combining gray and brown, particularly where wool is involved, or even in knitted costumes, bouclé and the like.

You may argue that a little bit of Roman striping goes a long way. It is well done in the accompanying sketch, the stripes being above the table.

One often gets a striped effect in costume jewelry which is of as many colors as Joseph's famous coat. What will be used for "jewelry" next one wonders. Flax is the latest media. There has also been a revival of gold and silver wire jewelry. We will be spelling out names right out in it before long, but for the nonce the initials will do.

ROMAN STRIPES REAPPEAR

Copyright, 1935, by Fairchild.

This white dress is of corded synthetic fabric with rough silk featuring Roman stripes for the brief jacket and sash which buttons onto the dress in individual way.

Golden Organdie Dawns

A gold metal chignon with a chic finish that results in a shiny crisp fabric deserving to be called "golden organdie" has been introduced. It is an interesting possibility for youthful dancing dresses, since it has glitter enough to hold its own beside the lustrous satins which promise to dominate evening fashions. It is suitable also for tunics of dinner frocks or small "evening hats" to be worn with dinner dresses. Types shown by one importer gain in design interest by widely spaced overprints of small motifs drawn in black outlines.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Paris is beige-gray at present. Bags, gloves, everything, are seen in beige.

One of the most effective bags is a replica of a Chanel model with large safety pin fastening. This is developed in linen or natural, or cotton, with a slip in the flap through which the giant safety pin may be slipped to release the bag opening, which is controlled by a metal bag fastener.

Patel downkins are recommended for afternoon wear. In pumps to be worn with contrasting colored bow, or in very slender strapped models.

SALUTE MARKET IS EXPERIENCING BOOM

Governors of States Get Two More Guns

Washington.—The salute market is experiencing a solid boom. Two "heaps," in fact, have been added to the country salute for Governors of American States by Presidential decree.

Heardforth governors visiting army or navy posts with their own salute will be entitled to 12-gun salutes, placing them on par with members of the Presidential cabinet. Formerly governors received 17 guns.

"Salute by gunfire is an ancient ceremony that grew out of custom and usage," says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. "More strong nations compelled weaker ones to salute by gunfire as an act of submission. During the Seventeenth century the points in matters of international courtesy sometimes even led to hostility between states of Europe."

All Salutes Returned.

"Because the earliest gunpowder greetings were largely forced affairs on parties of the second part, vessels and shore forts of stronger nations could reply to them or not as they saw fit. But custom gradually changed. With the spread of the idea of equality between nations, gunfire salutes were returned 'gun for gun.' This is now universal practice among civilized nations."

"The most widely-used salute today is the international, which consists of twenty-one guns fired one after another. The ceremony and the number of guns was taken over by the United States from the British."

"Why did the British choose twenty-one as the number of guns suitable for an international salute?"

"In the earliest days of saluting, British men-of-war fired seven guns. The number seven was taken, it is believed, because of its mystical and symbolical significance. Among ancient nations and in the Bible seven is 'The Sacred Number.' Astronomy once listed seven 'planets,' and the phases of the moon changed every seven days. In the Bible creation was finished in seven days, and every seventh year was sabbatical."

"But while early British regulations stated that ships might fire only seven guns, shore batteries were allowed three guns to every one on shipboard. It was explained that powder made from sodium nitrate spoiled on shipboard, but it was easy to keep on land. The multiple three was chosen, then, because it has had mystical and symbolical importance from remote times."

International Salutes.

"When better gunpowder was made, the salute at sea was raised to equal that on land. By common agreement today the international salute of all civilized nations is twenty-one guns. In the United States twenty-one guns is also the national salute, given for the President, ex-Presidents, heads of foreign governments, members of a reigning royal family, and for the flag."

"Once our national salute was one gun for each state. First authorized in 1810, the national salute had grown to twenty-one guns in 1818. The number of guns increased steadily with the growth of the nation, until 1841, when the national salute was reduced to twenty-one guns. In 1875 the United States also formally accepted twenty-one guns as the international salute."

"This country has also an extraordinary ceremony known as the 'salute to the nation,' which consists of one gun for each of the 48 states. This salute war is staged only at noon on July Fourth at American military posts, although it has been given on a few other notable occasions, such as the death of a President."

Letter Visits 16 U. S. Cities of Same Name

Geneva, N. Y.—When a local man received a letter the other day which was intended for delivery prior to Christmas, he wondered where it had been for nearly four months. The address was not eligible, but the number of "Genevas" postmarked the envelope bore caused him to probe the situation.

He found there were 16 Genevas in the United States, and his letter had visited most of them before it reached its destination. They are in Alabama, Florida, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Minnesota, Nebraska, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas and West Virginia. And top good members, Ohio has two, the second being known as "Geneva-on-the-Lake."

Jigsaw Puzzle Help to Teacher in German Class

Redwood City, Calif.—Miss Juliette Wolters, teacher in the Sequoia Union high school, near here, has discovered that jigsaw puzzles aid the teaching of German to her students.

Miss Wolters had a large map of Germany made into a 300 piece jigsaw puzzle. Each day her pupils get better acquainted with Germany by putting the puzzle together.

"By the time the class assembles the puzzle two or three times the students will have a comprehensive idea of Germany's geography," she explained.

Habits of Silkworms

The silkworm spins its cocoon about itself and passes into the torpid state of a chrysalis or pupa. It allowed to remain in this state too long, it becomes active, begins to gnaw its way out through the cocoon, and finally comes forth in the butterfly state. The cocoon is then of little value. But if, just before the chrysalis begins to grow active, the cocoon is dropped in boiling water, the insect is instantly killed, and the silk is easily unwound and reeled for the market.

Raisin pies may look alike, but how different they can taste!

... Just as true of TONGUE ROLL

Just as one raisin pie will be a luscious dream, another one will be a soggy, flavorless mixture. The difference lies in ingredients and cooking skill. This same difference applies to tongue roll, because the outside appearance means nothing. It's the flavor that will decide you.

From its tenderness and its enticing taste, you just know that a First Prize Tongue Roll must be made from superior ingredients. By people who know their business. First Prize Tongue Roll is made from selected white tongues that are first sugar cured and then cooked with meat jelly and pimientos. Delightful for sandwiches and lunch cuts.

Your table is no place to take chances on food. Cheap ingredients make cheap food. If First Prize Tongue Roll, or any of the other fifty-one kinds of sausage, costs a little more, it is not one cent more than safe, healthful savory food has to cost. Reach for a Lucky —for always Luckies Please!

Why shouldn't I say nice things about Luckies?

I must confess that I enjoy smoking more and more. Maybe it's because I started with a cigarette that suits me right. Luckies are so very mild. I like the fine taste of their tobaccos—and because I'm so sensitive to personal discomforts—for, after all, my cigarette touches my lips—I particularly welcome the added assurance of purity which "Toasting" affords. Whenever I hear comments about cigarettes—I always say, "But Luckies are different." And then I would say some nice things about "Toasting". To hear me you'd think that I discovered "Toasting"—but that's just my way. I like to root for things that please me. And certainly—"Luckies Please!"

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

Many famous characters like themselves in the hotels of New York. The city is especially true of the older residents of the town. Whenever an old man is brought to the presence of the city, he is usually treated with respect. They come on through their own way. There was the case of Mrs. M. M. Wood whose story was revealed when her husband brought proceedings to have her declared incompetent. For many years, though, she had been in New York, and lived alone in a room in a modest mid-town hotel, seeing only an occasional chambermaid to help her and existing on food she carried in paper bags. Investigation disclosed the fact that she had on her person and hidden in the room more than a million dollars in cash and securities. She did not so long after her case became known and her estate is now awaiting settlement in Surrogate's court, a number of claimants having appeared.

In a mid-town hotel, which has considerable social prestige, a little old gentleman took a room 17 years ago. She has occupied that same room ever since. She always refused to admit any hotel help on the plea that she wanted nothing disturbed. Attempts to prevail on her to have the room redecorated fell on deaf ears. Changes in management made no difference. Finally, after some a year, and after manager who determined to have the entire hotel renovated. The gentleman objected strenuously. The manager was firm. The guest was equally so. Finally he informed her that unless she would consent to have her room done, she would have to move out on a certain date. If she gave her consent, he promised, everything would be put back exactly as it had been. On that condition the guest took up temporary quarters in another room.

When the decorators had finished, the manager took the guest back to her room. She made a careful inspection, then turned on him indignantly. One of the pictures had been put on the "wrong" wall. A couple of minutes' work satisfied her and she has settled down apparently secure in the thought that she won't be disturbed again for at least 17 years.

In another hotel, also one with social prestige, is a man guest who has occupied the same room for five years. When he came he had a suitcase, and that is still all his baggage. Every morning, looking up and down, he goes out, evidently to business. Yet in all these five years a pair of clothes has never hung in his closet and nothing has been found on the dresser or in the drawers. Nor have the clean towels, supplied each morning, ever been used.

The recent shooting of a crow by a count in an apartment house corridor, with subsequent court proceedings, brings to mind the fact that daily elevator trouble occurs in a fashionable residential hotel where guests are allowed to keep dogs. Generally a couple of women battle, but sometimes the women are divided. The cause is always the same. Dogs go for each other in the elevator and their owners take up the fuss.

Back to the land note: One moving van operator, Garden City, L. I., where many of the Seven Million sleep—has moved fifteen families to Connecticut farms within the last few weeks.

Speaking of back to the land, there's that shack colony in the Jersey meadows across from the Newark airport. The meadows are those famous stretches of salt marsh which are still unclaimed despite the many plans that have been advanced to make them useful. So far as this writer knows, nothing has ever been raised in the Jersey meadows. But the shack dwellers have laid out neat little farms and the early indications are that they will bring forth crops.

4-Year Old Child Plays a Bass Viol

Pittsburgh—Pittsburgh has given the world its youngest double bass violinist, who is much smaller than the instrument he plays. He is Robert (Jackie) Young, Jr., four-year-old son of Robert Young, grandson of the late F. H. Young, who taught music for years in Pittsburgh and Sewickley until his death last October. With his parents, "Jackie" is currently making his home in Atlantic City, where he recently appeared in a fashion show. With two other New Jersey children he played in a concert with the New York Children's orchestra. His New York appearance was under the direction of Earl Mordecai, the country's outstanding teacher of child musicians and organizer of the famous Hollywood Baby orchestra.

CAS SUGGES—Joining Their Bridges . . .

OFFICE CAT
By Jennings

When a man grows older he is more concerned about the possibility of a breach over his head and less concerned about the crease in his pants.

Mother (as she came into the room where the children were playing)—Beatie, what do you mean by shouting and storming about like that? Why can't you play quietly like Ted. He just ignores a woman.

Little Beatie—Of course he can't. It's his part in the game to play like that. He is being daddy coming home late at night, and I am you.

A girl will never forget her first kiss, but a boy is more apt to remember the kiss he tried to get and couldn't.

Man—Have you ever thought seriously of marriage?

Out-Of-Town Friend—Indeed I have, ever since the ceremony.

Views and Near-Views . . . It appears that fixing depression-guilt is as difficult as fixing war-guilt. . . . We hear much about the deeper things of life. What are they? . . . A pretty, slender woman of 35 with fat ancestors has plenty to worry about. . . . They call them roasting ears, but they always boil them. . . . The reason slickers can make money without working is because suckers are eager to do the same thing.

The police dog is not the only German dog popular in America. There's the hot dog. . . . If you are unable to find an opportunity to go to work and make one. . . . A boy in the family always comes in handy when the pie left over is not enough to save. . . . All right, now, who's the other Senator from Louisiana? . . . The old bachelor says the difference between firmness and obstinacy is merely a matter of sex. . . . Too many men who say they are "self-made" seem to have been interrupted before the job was finished. . . . About all some of us have saved for a rainy day is a case of rheumatism.

A naval officer fell overboard. He was rescued by a duck head. The officer asked his preserver how he could reward him.

"The best way, sir," said the lowly deck hand, "is to say nothing about it. If the other fellows knew I had pulled you out they'd chuck me in."

Everyman has his way of doing and getting along. If it's a poor way, it's just too bad for rarely does he ever change it.

Reay—What did you think when you first put your arms around me? Jacob—I wished I was an octopus.

A youth who went back on his swears, said: "I thought it was a case of love at first sight, but I guess I must have slightly cross-eyed."

A short cut to a girl's heart seems to be through the dress department. The girl should learn that a ring on the finger is worth a dozen over the telephone.

A fashion note starts out this way: "Two sleeves do not make a dress. Well, we should say not."

Tomar—What delightful manners your daughter has. Neighbor—(proudly)—Yes, you see she has been away from home so much.

We read that "well-timed silence is more eloquent than speech." And most silence is well-timed.

Beauty is only skin deep and often it is only powdered on.

A Dainty Frock

Handkerchief linen was selected for this model, with plaiting of orzandy. One could use crepe or voile or cotton prints. It is also suggested for gingham. The raglan shoulders, and simple lines of the waist, are excellent features of this model, becoming to all types of figure. The skirt has straight lines, and concealed plait fullness to give comfortable width when the figure is in motion. A sash of material or of ribbon completes this youthful style.

To finish the neck and front edges of the waist with bias binding will require 1 1/2 yard 1 1/2 inch wide. The sash of ribbon or material will require 2 yards 6 inches wide. The Villain
By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"Christopher Columbus Crow" called Willy Nilly. The Crow was sitting on the edge of his nest in the pine tree. "Come down here at once, you villain!"

"But wasn't he the one who brought back the silver?" the animal quacked and growled and barked. "The Crow flew down and cawingly said: 'Please give me the reward.' 'I'll do no such thing,' answered Willy Nilly.

"But you promised you would give a reward to the one who gave you the information regarding the thief."

"Yes," admitted Willy Nilly, while the animal listened in astonishment. "But you are the thief and so you should be punished, too."

"Caw, caw," said Christopher Columbus Crow, "I was just having some fun."

"You've kept us worried all this time," answered Willy Nilly.

"Do you mean that Christopher Columbus Crow took your silver?" barked Rip, the Dog. "I don't blame that Woodchuck for biting me when I accused him of the theft. And to think that I am only just over feeling the pain from the bite. I'll shake that Crow until he begs for mercy, that's what I'll do."

"You can't shake me if I'm up on my nest," cawed the Crow.

"I'll catch you some time when you're on the ground," barked Rip.

"I'll keep out of your way," cawed the Crow, "but I do think I deserve a reward." he added with a wicked smile.

"We'll try your case right here in Puddle Muddle," Willy Nilly ordered. "Court will meet tomorrow afternoon. All be on hand!"

"And we won't forget how you encouraged us in a search you knew was hopeless!"

Tomorrow—The Crow's Trial

THE RAINBOW CHASERS

The song says that happiness is at the end of the rainbow. A rainbow is a perfect circle—chasing it brings us right back to where we started.

All happiness is right where we are—but we have to plan and work to unfold it.

It takes money to bring most things we want, so you see the wisdom of putting money away regularly.

At The Theatres

Today

Kingston: "He Learned About Women." Stuart Erwin again is the featured player in this comedy, and again he plays the part of a naive, too-simple minded young man who runs into disaster and difficulty. Some of the best laughs of the season are to be discovered in this flicker, and the plot sees to it that all turns out for the best before the show is finished. Those who help Mr. Erwin along in his troubles include the always popular Allison Skipworth and Susan Fleming.

Orpheum: "Me and My Gal" and "Avenge Seas." Spencer Tracy and Joan Bennett are co-featured in this happy little romance that is as entertaining as it is optimistic in tone. There is some grand comedy, and the work of Mr. Tracy and Miss Bennett is enjoyable. "Avenge Seas" is a wild tale of the men who put to sea in ships.

Broadway: "The Big Cage." Gather around, ladies and gentlemen, and see the one and only Clyde Beatty, America's premier trainer of wild animals, go through all his tricks in a picture built around the dangers of the circus. The men who train lions, tigers and other jungle residents to be good while in a circus cage. All of the thrills of circus life are to be found in this unusual picture, and there is also a romance woven into the pattern of the play. One of the most thrilling scenes in the show comes when the wild animal break loose to freedom. Supporting Mr. Beatty are Anita Page, Mickey Rooney, Andy Devine, Raymond Hatton and Wallace Ford.

Tomorrow

Kingston: "Adorable." Clever music and stunning sets give this picture a radiant quality, with Janet Gaynor more winsome and lovely than ever in the role of a princess who meets a lieutenant of the guard at a servant's ball, and who immediately falls in love. It's light, airy entertainment with a number of clever song hits. Henry Garat, European sensation making his talkie debut in this country, plays Miss Gaynor's soldier lover with grace and ability. This picture gives Janet Gaynor her best screen story in some time, and she proves again that she is one of the most charming and lovable actresses on the screen today. Herbert Mundin and C. Aubrey Smith are in the cast. William Dieterle directed.

Orpheum: "Hot Pepper" and "Nagana." One of the best double feature roles offered by the Orpheum Theatre in some time. The first, with those two rough neck comedies Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe, is the half mad tale of two after-marines, and there struggle after leaving the service. One of them becomes a rascal, and the other chases him around, causing endless difficulty at every turn. El Brendel lends some added comedy relief, with Lupe Velez effective as a stowaway who makes good in the big city. "Nagana" is the story of a young scientist and his fight against sleeping sickness in the jungle wastes of Africa. There are some exceptional wild animal scenes, a good plot, and the acting of Melvyn Douglas and Tala Birell is effective.

Broadway: Same.

Itching Skin

The minute you finish applying Petermann's Ointment to that very itching skin the itching starts to go in and soon the torment is over. Just rub it in. It doesn't matter whether you have eczema, pimples, chaps, scabies, acne, boils or chapped hands and cold sores. Petermann's Ointment cures them. ## MICH FALLS

High Falls, June 22.—Mrs. Elma Schoonmaker of Kingston recently spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Mary Krom and Mrs. Thomas Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Luchman, who have spent many summer seasons in the parish house, were here over the weekend and will return in two weeks for the summer.

Miss Jessie Snyder was happily surprised Sunday afternoon by a call from Mr. and Mrs. Howard Swindon of Walden, accompanied by a former Northfield friend, whom she had not seen for many years.

Mrs. George Holmes of Poughkeepsie visited her brother, Martin Van Wazenen, one day the past week.

The High Falls Public School will hold its commencement exercises at the school house on Friday evening of this week. All parents and those who are interested in the school welfare are cordially invited. At this time there will be an interesting exhibit of work done during the year. Regent's examinations were held in the High Falls Public School Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the week. There were a number of students who attended from out of town.

On the night of June 28, the Rev. Clarence Howard will be installed as pastor of the Reformed Church. The Rev. Herman Hageman, a former pastor of the church for many years and loved by all, will take part in the installation. The Rev. Garret J. Wulfschlegel of New Paltz and other prominent ministers of this vicinity will also be present.

Mrs. Wise of New York city has opened her home here for the summer.

Miss Ethel Wheeler has accepted a position in the Parry Tea Shoppe. Mrs. Edgar Dever celebrated her 84th birthday at her home on Tuesday of this week. She received a shower of postal from her many friends and all hope she may live to see more happy birthdays.

Miss Kathryn Van Wazenen of Montclair, N. J., spent Wednesday at Locust Hurst Cottage.

Mrs. Alexander Stokes and son, Charles, visited her daughter, Mrs. Peter Smith, Tuesday.

Mrs. Fanny Depuy is visiting her brother in Walden.

The farmers of the vicinity are getting in their harvest.

Victor G. Purcell of The Glove has been moving for different parties in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Depuy and sons, Dorr Depuy and Franklin Depuy, and wife of Brooklyn, were weekend guests of his mother, Mrs. C. Depuy and sister, Miss Elizabeth Depuy.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Depuy were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Monroe of Kingston overnight, and all of the party called on Mrs. Henry Reed of Kingston. On Saturday night accompanied by Mrs. C. Depuy and Miss Elizabeth Depuy, the party took supper at the Rock Cliff House. A lovely meal was served which was enjoyed by all.

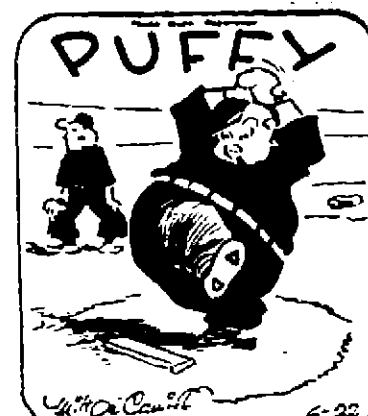

They had excellent service. On Sunday afternoon Miss Reed and her mother, Mrs. M. S. Davis called at the Depuy home and a most social hour was spent. An ideal weekend was enjoyed by all the party and the only drawback was the late taking for the visit was far too short to crowd in all that they wished to do and to call on all their friends.

The strawberry festival held in the Reformed church the past week under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society, was a great success, both socially and financially. Over $30 was cleared and all who in any way helped is given due credit.

A number from this place attended the funeral of Lambert Brodhead which was held on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock from the Hamilton funeral parlors in Kerhouskoon. The people wish to extend their heartfelt sympathy to the family and near friends and relatives in this time of sorrow.

Reforestation Camp At Olive Takes Form

Shelton, June 22.—The Olive camp of the government conservation service became a reality Wednesday afternoon with the arrival at McKelvey's Cove, three miles northwest of Shelton, of an advance detachment of 30 men from the 215th Conservation Commission Company from Fort Hamilton. Several army trucks loaded with men, equipment and provisions passed through the village during the day and by nightfall a number of large tents were up and smoke from the mess sergeant's fires was being wafted over the upper Esopus valley on sultry breezes. The whole scene in the gathering dusk was reminiscent of the good old army days, and motorists on Route 28, which passes the army camp site, slowed up their cars to take in the unfamiliar sight for this section, of a military camp in the making.

The men already stationed at the camp will be engaged for the next two days in perfecting arrangements for the accommodation of the main body of recruits, scheduled to arrive here, 215 strong, on Saturday, Major Easterday of the 62nd U. S. Coast Artillery will be the commandant at Camp Olive and the regular army personnel will include two of officers and four men. Corporals Kumer and Bolt and Private McGonigal accompanied the first detachment and were actively engaged in the preliminary work of organization Wednesday evening. Private McGonigal, who is in charge of the mess, has seen 25 years service in the regular army. The conservation commission work is Morris Roseman. The men, including those to follow, are all from Greater New York city. Raymond Kramer will be in charge of conservation commission activities having to do with 25000 month reforestation work in the reservoir section and Catskill Forest Park.

The new camp is located on the west side of Route 28, or the old Plank Road, on a plateau adjacent to the east bank of the Esopus Creek and a few hundred rods above the point where that stream empties into the west basin of the Ashokan reservoir.

Land leased of John and Mabel McKelvey, whose homestead is nearby in the site of the Corps of Engineers. C. W. Wines, tavern of four horse stage coach days, occupies six acres of sandy loam well adapted to the purpose. A water line for which pipe is already on the grounds, will be laid to the Esopus creek for supplying water for shower baths and sanitary needs. It is proposed also to sink a driven well and in case sufficient water is not secured in this manner, to tap one of the springs on the mountain side near the Hellman summer home. Construction work on the bath house and mess hall will be commenced immediately. By the first of next week an orderly routine will have been established and the recruits settled down to their new life in the mountains. A branch telephone line was strung on trees several days ago.

The New York boys had scarcely stretched their limbs after the long ride on Wednesday before tradesmen and others began to descend upon the camp for the purpose of securing contracts for milk, firewood, groceries and the thousand and one things needed to supply the wants of a large group of men. Although traffic is very heavy on Route 28 during the summer months, and the pavement of the highway in the environs of the camp is none too wide, there is ample parking space on the grounds of the McKelveys' privately conducted camp, where visitors can readily secure accommodations. It is expected that Camp Olive will prove a drawing card for tourists and sightseers second only in importance to the great Ashokan reservoir, now generally recognized as Ulster county's stellar attraction.

The Fruitful Banana. Bananas, introduced into Great Britain in 1878, were the first delicious foreign fruit to be sold on a large scale. A wonderful fruit, the banana, 4,000 pounds of them can be grown on a space which would produce only 20 pounds of potatoes and 33 pounds of wheat; and, except for clearing away old stalks, practically no cultivation is necessary.

Diamonds and Steel. A diamond could never understand how a thousandth part of an inch. The explanation finally looked out. It was done by a machine. Literally, a machine with diamonds. This almost invisible machine has four arms. Each contains a diamond wheel which cuts through the hardest steel.—The New Magazine.

This year they can enter virtually every race on par with men. Gladys O'Donnell (left), who won a $3,000 prize at last year's Cleveland races, and Mrs. Mae Halzlip (right) who in the same meet attained a speed of 255 miles an hour, likely will be among the contenders at Los Angeles.

JACK had loved her since she was a lanky girl of thirteen with a wealth of lovely red-gold hair hanging down her back.

There were times during her progress into the realm of womanhood when, if John had been her father, he most certainly would have tried to reform her. Her scrumptious, tree-climbing and other boyish escapades turned John's affection momentarily to the more staid of Daphne's companions.

John, being in the same category as most truly well-balanced boys, preferred the feminine to the masculine in the girl upon whom he had set his affections.

So when John returned from his final year in college to take up his business career and found his lovely Daphne with her head cropped, springing about the streets in training for a cross-country run, it nearly finished the love affair.

When he remonstrated with her Daphne merely threw her cropped head up a bit.

"Of course, if you loved me for my hair alone," she told him, "your love isn't worth worrying about. And as for athletics—well, they're good for anyone."

"I didn't love you for your hair, but for the characteristics that go naturally along with a feminine and not a masculine head. In the first place, you look like the dickens with that cropped hair effect, and if I can't have a girl who is a girl, then I won't have any."

"Don't be so old-fashioned," was Daphne's retort. "Half the girls today have boyish bobs."

"And that half looks just like the half-breeds they are," was what John said. "Oh, Daphne, you were so lovely, so dainty and womanly when your lovely curls played about in the winds. There's just nothing there now for a fellow to twine his fingers in."

Then John smiled unexpectedly. "Never mind my opinions, darling—you're a right to look and act as you think best."

And because Daphne really loved her big John, she slipped into his arms and smiled softly against his lapel. She triumphed nearly always with John.

Her hair remained bobbed and she continued in her athletics.

John took a month away from her before starting his position in the bank.

He telephoned her on the day of his return and reminded her that the great dance at the town hall to which she was going with him would commence sharp at nine. "I'll manage to get there about quarter to," he told her, and Daphne thought she detected a queer little laugh in John's tone.

At a quarter to nine John arrived at the big house on the hill where Daphne and her parents lived.

The maid who let him in gasped and tried not to show the astonishment she felt at sight of him.

Instead of the sleek straight hair of olden days, John's was long and had a wonderful wave in it. His shirt was of softest silk and his tie the most girlish thing in mauve silk that anyone could want. His socks were of the same tint and—yes, the most deliciously sweet of perfumes wafted from his person.

"Is Miss Daphne quite ready?" he asked in a simpering voice and with the cooing of a dove.

"Oh, yes, sir," said the maid. "She's been waiting—all ready."

And with that John was shown into the drawing room where Daphne was waiting with her parents.

Daphne's face when she saw her perfectly good John rigged in feminine dainties, was a picture no artist could paint. Daphne's mother gasped, then frowned. Her father cast one look at him, then burst into a regular guffaw.

John managed to give both parents a large wink and because they had always felt the same way about Daphne's masculine tastes as he did, they understood at once what was in the wind.

"Oh, John," said Mrs. Thorpe, "what an improvement. Your hair is simply sweet and I do love those flowing ties! I never could see why women should have all the dainties."

"That's the stunt, old man," said Mr. Thorpe, "you look like the real stuff now. I like to see a fellow keep up with the times, and half the young men of today look more like women than men. I'll bet you're got pink undies, too, by jove."

"No," stammered John, "my color scheme for tonight is mauve—all mauve. I think these sets sweet, don't you—ties, socks, and hanky all alike. And I even have violet perfume." He turned to Daphne. "Come, precious—we'll be late for the dance."

But Daphne's face had flushed and her eyes were black with rage. "I wouldn't go to a dog fight, let alone a dance, with you—like that."

"My pet, why not? Then I shall be forced to go by myself."

It took about three months for Daphne's beautiful curls to appear again and she does no more cross-country running.

Apple Case in Hands of Jury

Frank Grouse seeks to recover five loads of apples he alleges were damaged when truck tipped over.

An action on contract was concluded in court today. Plaintiff, Frank Grouse, seeks to recover five loads of apples he alleges were damaged when a truck of the defendant tipped over while delivering the fruit to the Milton cold storage company on September 25, last.

The defendant admits being a common carrier which accepted the fruit for delivery and also admits that the fruit was not delivered. Plaintiff seeks to recover $493.25 with interest for 225 crates of apples. Plaintiff alleges that on that date the load of apples was taken from his place for delivery to the Milton plant and that the truck in passing on a scale tipped over and damaged his apples and that he has never been paid for them. He claims that the damage was such that they could not be put in cold storage and that they were refused at the plant. He claims they were U. S. Fancy grade. Testimony was that they were worth about $1 a bushel.

Defendant denied liability and claims that the apples were not badly damaged and that an offer was made by the truckman to settle for damages and have Mr. Lofaro take the apples. This it is claimed by defendant was refused and a claim of abandonment is made and defendant claims that the apples having been abandoned, Mr. Lofaro cannot recover.

Mr. Lofaro contends that an offer was made but it was a conditional offer. It is claimed that the truckman did offer to see if he could collect $75 or $100 insurance on the load if the owner would accept the apples. This offer the plaintiff claims was a conditional offer and he was not bound to accept it and that his refusal to accept it was not abandonment of the fruit. Defendant denied the fancy quality of the apples and claims that much of the load was undamaged and was salvaged and sold.

George Rusk and Rusk appeared for plaintiff and Single & Hill appear for defendant. The case went to the jury at noon and court took a recess at that time until 2 o'clock.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 22 (AP)—Another sharp advance of foreign exchanges against the American dollar received a rather cool reception in financial markets today and stocks and commodities for the most part, moved cautiously in an extremely narrow range.

Displaying a contrary disposition, speculative enthusiasts, who have previously whirled prices upward as dollar rates declined, watched the national currency rates slump without displaying more than a smattering of the customary inflation emotion. With the British pound up around $4.24, its highest since the gold standard was suspended, there was some fairly spirited advances in stocks in the first hour. The terror did quickly however and prices turned irregular. Trading volume dwindled and at times the ticker tape barely moved. Wheat, corn and cotton drifted indifferently.

Oil and rails received the principal attention in early transactions, most of the leading shares in these groups showing gains of fractions in around a point. The tobacco division drew a following on reports that cigarette production was continuing much higher than last year. Advances of 1 to about 2 points were recorded by American Tobacco, R. Liggett & Co. and B. & L. Lorillard. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem did not get fractionally to a point or more, but such pivotal shares as American Telephone, Case, American Can, DuPont, General Motors, Goodyear, General Electric, United Aircraft and Sears Roebuck were disposed to mark time.

Recent activity of the oil shares is credited largely to further advances in gasoline prices and to hopes that new governmental regulations may at least soon eliminate unfair competition in the selling of petroleum products.

Stiffening of the grains has given encouragement to bullish enthusiasts who believe staples trading may eventually supersede the foreign exchange element as a spur to stocks.

Acting Mayor Asks Aid For Convention

The following proclamation has been issued by Acting Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman:

The convention of the New York State Civil Service Association will be held in this city on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week.

About six hundred delegates from all parts of the state are expected, many of whom will see Kingston for the first time.

Convention arrangements are in charge of the convention committees of our three local Business Men's Associations and the Common Council. Kingston is an ideal and beautiful convention city. We have splendid hotels, restaurants, shops, places of amusements. Our historic sites and buildings are of special interest to visitors and will acquaint them with the distinguished history of our city. The old armory, now the property of the city, provides a large municipal auditorium for convention purposes. The charm, beauty and interest of our surrounding countryside make pleasant and instructive side-trips possible.

Conventions contribute to the general prosperity of a community. We can establish the reputation of Kingston as an ideal convention city if we please the delegates.

The delegates to this convention are coming at our special invitation. They will be our special guests. We can spread the fame of Kingston's hospitality if we all cooperate to make the visit of these delegates comfortable and pleasant—if we go out of our way to be helpful and courteous to them. Motorists can assist if they will offer transportation from hotels to the municipal auditorium and return to delegates wearing credential badges.

Let us show this convention and those that follow that Kingstonians are a kindly, courteous, thoughtful, helpful and hospitable people. It will make them happier and us happier and it will pay in the end.

Given under my hand and the seal of the City of Kingston this 22nd day of June, 1933.

CONRAD J. HEISELMAN
Acting Mayor

Little Boy Fell Three Stories

Jacob, the three year old son of Jacob Ennist of 120 Hasbrouck avenue, is in the Kingston Hospital badly injured as the result of falling from the third story porch at the family apartments this morning. The boy was rushed to the Kingston Hospital where it was said his condition was as good as could be expected. Dr. C. B. Van Gaasbeck is attending the boy.

From what could be learned the little boy was out on the porch on the floor of the building and climbed up on the railing. The child lost its balance and fell to the ground below.

BOMB PLACED IN AUTO OF REPRESENTATIVE EATON

Watchung, N. J., June 22 (AP)—A 15-pound bomb containing what explosive experts described as "the most deadly explosive in the world," was found today attached to the automobile of Representative Charles A. Eaton of the Fifth Congressional District.

When the bomb was found by Joseph Balent, an employee, Eaton was uncertain whether it was real or merely the work of a practical joker. "If it be a bomb," he said, "I feel it was not directed against me so much as against the United States government."

The machine had been placed under the hood of the automobile. From the front of the car a wire dangled.

On the floor of the garage where Representative Eaton had left his car last night, Balent also found an unsmoked cigar.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MAVERICK THEATRE DIRECTOR

At the conclusion of the dress rehearsal of "The Greeks Had A Word For It," the first production of the season at the Maverick Theatre, the members of the company, including the stage crew, surprised Benrimo, director of the Maverick Theatre, with a birthday party. At the conclusion of a brilliant but difficult scene in the successful Zoe Atkins play, Benrimo announced a few minutes for relaxation. This announcement was the cue for the actors, musicians, and stagehands to burst forth singing "Happy Birthday To You." Then the company ushered their director backstage where ice cream and cake was served. Perhaps the outstanding gift Benrimo received on his birthday was an exquisitely molded Chinese bronze head of Kwan Yuen, the Goddess of Mercy.

REV. DR. STOCKWELL DIED WEDNESDAY IN PHILADELPHIA

The Rev. Dr. Frederick Emerson Stockwell, general director of the department of colleges, theological seminaries and training schools of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education in the United States, died Wednesday at the Presbyterian Hospital in Philadelphia, after an illness of several weeks. He was 65 years old. Dr. Stockwell was a former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Newburgh and was well known in Kingston, having preached a number of times during the summer vacation periods in the Rondout Presbyterian Church.

THERE WERE 15 CHILDREN VACCINATED WEDNESDAY

Eighteen children were vaccinated against smallpox by Dr. L. E. Sanford at the vaccination clinic held Wednesday afternoon in the rooms of the board of health at the city hall.

American Delegation At World Conference Makes Surprise Move

Serve Notice United States Will Not Consider Currency Stabilization Until International Trade Barriers Are Removed.

London, June 22 (AP)—The American delegation to the World Economic Conference today made a startling move which the delegates of many other nations interpreted as serving formal notice on the assembly that the United States will not consider stabilization of the dollar before the conference has adopted President Roosevelt's program for the removal of international trade barriers.

This move was the introduction of a resolution by Secretary of State Cordell Hull under instructions from Mr. Roosevelt calling for the removal of trade barriers.

No mention was made of stabilization and there was no swinging of the big club.

The opinion freely expressed in the lobbies, however, was that this was the American answer to the fierce campaign France and other gold standard countries have been waging to force the United States to stabilize the dollar before other subjects are dealt with at the conference. The stabilization storm, which has been growing since the last few days, was lashing the conference with its full fury today, and there even was revived talk of trying to find a way to adjourn the proceedings pending settlement of the dispute.

The Hull resolution was introduced in a sub-committee of the economic commission this morning. As soon as word of it spread the delegates began debating its probable effect.

There was much speculation about whether it would force France and her gold bloc allies to abandon their drive for immediate stabilization and proceed with other problems, or whether it would have the effect of hardening gold bloc resistance.

Excelsior Hose To Attend Convention

Excelsior Hose Company with its band and drum corps will represent Kingston at the 61st annual convention of the New York State Firemen's Association, which will be held in Poughkeepsie from the 15th to the 18th of August. The local company will take part in the parade on Friday afternoon, August 18, at 2 o'clock.

The Excelsior Company will be headed by Mayor Carey, acting Mayor Conrad Heiselman and five fire commissioners. The fire apparatus will also be in the parade. The company will make the trip by bus.

VICTOR COMES TO BOOST ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE WORK

Dr. Deming, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, has invited Fred A. Victor of Yonkers to address the congregation at regular service Sunday morning, June 25, at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Victor is president of the Laymen's Association of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church in New York City and is state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League.

A very large group of people are interested in helping to stem the tide of brewery inspired propaganda against the 15th amendment. They earnestly wish to do their part to maintain the great social and economic gains that have come with National Prohibition. The Anti-Saloon League of New York, the accredited agency of the dry forces, stands as a bulwark between the people and the liquor traffic. It is unutterably opposed to the legal and illegal traffic in the narcotic habit forming drug—alcohol.

All the knowledge and experience of its staff of workers, all of its information and organizing ability, gained through years of conflict, help secure prohibition and to maintain it, are today at the disposal of the friends of prohibition in the fight against liquor lawlessness.

The public is cordially invited to hear Mr. Victor.

HAS TELEPHONE PEAS THAT ARE THREE FEET HIGH

West Shokan, June 22.—Speaking of early gardens, without question perhaps Ernie Constable of West Shokan Heights has the finest about the reservoir section. His telephone peas are three feet high, green beans nearly ready for picking or by the glorious 4th at latest, potatoes, radishes, etc., long in use. Ernie's fertile garden soil lying exposed to the warm vigorous rays radiating from the smiling face of faithful Old Sol did the trick right from the time of April planting, but of course, genial Ernie gives the moon her due share of credit, as he consults his almanac and plants then and there when the sign is right.

Killed When Truck Crashes

Rochester, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—A Rochester man was killed and four other persons were cut and bruised at 4:40 o'clock this morning in a two truck crash at East Henrietta, eleven miles south of here. The dead man was John Barrio, 52, a passenger in a truck driven by Sigfried Hanson, also of Rochester, who was taken to jail on a charge of manslaughter, second degree, after arraignment before a justice of the peace at Rush.

Take Your Choice

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt called out of Little Harbor at the entrance to Portsmouth Harbor, shortly before noon today after a visit with his 14-month-old granddaughter, Sara Delano Roosevelt. The Amberjack II, vacation schooner of the chief executive, got under way at 10:15 a. m. (E. S. T.).

Repealers Trim Schryvers And Win First Half of City League

Morgan's Repealers clinched the first half of the City Baseball League by beating the Schryvers Lumbermen by a score of 2 to 1 at the Athletic Field Wednesday evening. One of the largest crowds of the season attended the game and saw one of the prettiest games one would care to watch.

The weather, although threatening throughout the contest, was just about perfect for the twilight game, which was played in the first time of 1 hour and 20 minutes.

The Repealers, by winning the first half championship, gained the right to play the winner of the second half, which begins Monday, June 25.

The game, which was a real pitcher's duel between Ted Fraleigh of the Repealers and Big Ed Wilson of Schryvers, was replete with all kinds of good plays, only one error being committed.

That error was chalked against Wilson himself and it proved his undoing as the miscue permitted the winning run to score. In fact, Wilson was the cause of both runs being scored. He paved the way for the Repealers' other run when he walked a batter without any outs. He yielded but three hits and fanned eight.

Fraleigh, in winning, allowed three more hits than his opponent, but was at his best in the pitcher's box. In one inning he was nicked for three of the hits, but came through unscathed. He also was responsible for the Lumbermen's run when he uncorked a wild pitch with a man on third base. It was the third inning that Fraleigh was hit the hardest. Jansen started the frame with a single to right field only to be forced at second by Wilson. Peterson singled to left field and Niles filed out for the second out. "Coke" Tiano singled to left field, and Wilson stopped at third base. And then Thomas struck out to retire the side.

The fourth inning found the Repealers scoring the first run of the game. Tommy Davitt drew a pass to open the chukker. He advanced to second on a wild pitch and third on a passed ball and registered on Tiano's high fly to Jansen.

Bobby Slicker scored the Repealers' winning run. He singled to right field and reached third on Pres Knight's double. Merritt was walked to fill the bases. Then on a squeeze play Lutz Bruhn bunted to Wilson, who had plenty of time to get Slicker at the plate, but Wilson fumbled and the winning run was registered.

Schryvers' lone counter came in sixth inning. Bill Thomas hit a long double to left field and reached third base as Robins was being put out at first. Fraleigh unleashed his wild heave at this time and Thomas chalked up.

The Lumbermen threatened to score in the fifth frame. But, as in the third, wasted two hits and left two runners stranded.

SIDELINERS
The Clow Dairyman and Herzog's Hardwaremen will meet in the last game of the first half tonight. On Monday the second half will start.

Neither team had an earned run.

Wilson displayed the fastest ball yet shown this season.

Bill Thomas was in uniform ready to pitch in case Wilson went wild. He played left field in place of Johnny Carpenter.

Sizing Up Sharkey

Tagging Major League Bases

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Associate Press Sports Writer.)

The last minute trades by which several National League clubs endeavored to gain strength for the mid-season struggles appear, at first glance, to have panned out exceedingly well.

Notable among them was the switch which sent Lefty O'Doul to the New York Giants and Sam Leslie to the Brooklyn Dodgers, but the Boston-Philadelphia deal, involving Pinkey Whitney, Hal Lee, Wes Schulmerich and Fritz Knothe also seems to have been beneficial to both teams.

O'Doul, who wasn't hitting at all with the Dodgers, again made himself an important figure with the bat yesterday when, for the second time since the June 15 trade, he paced the New Yorkers to a victory that helped them hold the lead in the elder circuit. Lefty made two hits as the Giants downed the Chicago Cubs 3-1 in a brilliant mound duel between Fred Fitzsimmons and Pat Malone, and one was a home run that put New York ahead to stay.

Leslie's clouting already has won a couple of games for the Dodgers but he couldn't do much yesterday as the St. Louis Cardinals, after giving away five runs in the first inning, came back to win 7-5 and remain a half game behind the Giants. Whitney, the leading figure in the trade between the Braves and the Phillies, got a new job at second base yesterday when the veteran Rabbit Maranville was benched and Dick Gyselman was put in at third. He not only filled the bill ably but he wallowed three hits and batted in five runs as the Braves took both ends of a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-5 and 5-3.

The Phils new acquisitions, Schulmerich and Knothe, batted in six of the ten counters Philadelphia scored in the sixth and seventh innings to beat Cincinnati 10-8.

In the American League, Washington's so far unsuccessful pursuit of the New York Yankees again furnished the day's high spots as both teams won and remained a half game apart.

The Senators had little trouble downing the Chicago White Sox 9-0 as they uncorked an 18-hit assault, including four blows by Manager Joe Cronin, while Earl Whitehill kept nine hits well scattered. The Yanks, however, had to go 13 innings to beat the last-place St. Louis Browns, 5-3 despite Lou Gehrig's 17th home run of the season and Tony Lazzeri's 12th.

The Cleveland Indians continued their winning streak with more flashy pitching as Wes Ferrell limited the Philadelphia Athletics to six safeties while his mates pounded George Earnshaw for an 11-1 triumph.

The Boston Red Sox split a doubleheader, the Sox winning the opening slugfest 10-9 with the aid of a five run rally in the sixth and the Tigers coming back to get a 5-3 victory behind Fred Marberry's good fling.

Tiano Stars Play Lunch Room Team

The following dispatch was received this morning special to The Freeman:

Manager George Morton's hamburger ponders, united under the banner of the Central Lunch Room Stars, will oppose the Tiano All Stars of East Kingston, Friday evening at the Athletic Field. The lunch room aggregation is composed of well known ball tossers, who get their hamburgers at the Central Lunch counter. The Kingston team will have on its roster such luminaries as Bobby Cullum, Harold Johnson, Jack Robins, Jack Dawkins, Bill Schwab, Pres Knight, Jimmy Merritt, Dick Dulin, Jack Linden and Johnny Quest.

Pres Knight and Jack Robins will divide the pitching assignments. Robins usually twirls one game a year and Friday will be his day.

The Tiano forces, composed of brothers and relatives from East Kingston, made an impressive debut about two weeks ago by defeating Van Etten and Hogan, 10-2. Babe Volker will appear in the Tiano lineup and may twirl part of the game.

Although the Central Lunch Round easily hold its own against any club in the city, the East Kingston outfit is expected to provide plenty of opposition, and the large crowd that is expected to attend will probably see a close spectacular contest.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN I. COULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

It is another source of irritation to our old-time baseball friends to see and hear so much agitation over the "iron man" performances of Robert Moses Grove, who at one recent stretch appeared as relief pitcher in nine out of eleven successive games for the Athletics.

"Where do you get that stuff about Grove being such an 'iron man'?" asks the old-timer. "No doubt he is as tough as they come, as durable as any in the business, nowadays, but what he has been doing is child's play by comparison with real exhibitions of stamina by men like Radbourne, Walsh, Chesbro, Spalding, Johnson, McGinnity and others."

The real measure of a pitcher's endurance is in the complete games he pitches. Get that one—complete games—not two or three innings a day.

"Why, man, that Old Hoss, Radbourne, once pitched 22 consecutive complete games for the Providence team of the old National League. That was in 1884. Nine years before that A. G. Spalding pitched in 39 consecutive games for the Boston club of the National Association. He was in the box right along from the latter part of May until the end of July. Iron Man Grove? Don't make me laugh."

Johnson A Work Horse
"Even in the so-called modern ranks, pitchers like Walsh and Johnson outdid anything Grove has achieved to date for real endurance. Walsh pitched in 66 games in 1908 with the White Sox. Johnson was a work horse and demonstrated it on that one celebrated stretch where he beat New York three times in a row—Friday, Saturday and Monday—all complete games."

The record for complete games pitched is 48 by Jack Chesbro, made in 1904 with the Highlanders, forerunners of the Yankees. The record for games finished, 47, is held by Filpo Fred Marberry, with Washington in 1926. Subsequently, reversing the present Grove process, Marberry was made a starting pitcher and sold this past winter to Detroit.

Yanks Respect A's

The Yankees dropped five of their first eight games to Washington and captured the first eight in a row against the Athletics, but—

The Yankees still think the A's are a more dangerous challenger for the championship than the Washington outfit.

"How do you figure that one?" I asked Joe McCarthy and Babe Ruth in a recent joint session.

"Well," said Marse Joe, "Washington doesn't go so well against the rest of the league. They work up a lather against us, apparently, but then it wears off."

"Yeah," injected the Babe, "and don't forget those A's have good pitching and plenty of hitters. It would be just too bad if they still had Simmons in there, but they are doing pretty good at that."

Loughran Makes His Comeback

New York, June 22 (AP)—Tommy Loughran, the old master of ring strategy, is back in the fistie limelight again. He no longer is regarded as a contender for championships of any kind, but after being regarded as "all through" a half dozen times since he was knocked out by Jack Sharkey four years ago, he has returned to the "big time" and big crowds with a ten round decision over his old rival, Steve Hamas.

Carrying on a quiet comeback campaign, Tommy staged perhaps the greatest comeback of them all before 10,000 excited fans at the Yankee Stadium last night, for eight rounds he barely stayed off the rushes of the fiery Wallington, N. Y. youngster, absorbing quite a bit of punishment. He gave Hamas a lesson in the use of the straight arm such as Steve never received on the Penn State football field, poking his left into Hamas' face with almost monotonous regularity, but that wasn't quite enough.

Then in the ninth, bleeding from cuts over both eyes and apparently not far from a knockout, Loughran suddenly switched from boxing to fighting. He rocked Hamas' head back with hard rights and lefts, slugged and swatted on even terms and won the last two rounds and a close decision.

The triumph over Hamas, who knocked him out less than two years ago, while it only opened the series at two victories, provided something of a climax for Loughran's latest bid for a place among the leading lights of boxing. Leading up to it were victories over King Levinsky, Walter Cobb and Isidoro Gastanaga, Hamas 1874.

The semi-final provided another big surprise as Abe Feldman, New York heavyweight, gained a four-round technical knockout over Adolph Heuser of Germany, a recent challenger for Maxie Rosenbloom's light heavyweight title. Heuser's left eye was so badly cut that he was not allowed to come out for the fifth round.

Quincy, Ill.—Tiger Boy Williams, Chicago, outpointed Ted Grahan, Cincinnati (10); Danay Delmont, Chicago, outpointed Eddie Smith, Terre Haute, Ind. (8); Otto Atterson, Vincennes, Ind., and Phil Walters, Danville, Ill., drew (6); Phil Peranteo, Chicago, outpointed Johnny Rebo, Gary, Ind. (6).

Work on New Golf Course Progresses

The Wilkwyck Golf Club is presenting a busy aspect these days with great activity being noticed throughout the course as 20 new tractors, two trucks and 10 teams under the supervision of Thomas Goodman are rushing a new golf course along to completion.

Last evening the special construction committee were the guests of Mr. Goodman on the weekly inspection trip and the rapidly changing course was the occasion for many complimentary remarks.

The coffee dam, which holds a feet of water upon completion, will require 100 yards of cement constructing, is now being built up on the stream that runs through the lower part of the property. The dam will be utilized for storing water that will be used for spraying the greens. Five of the greens have already been completed, that is to say, the reason for not seeding. The five holes will be ready for play on Labor Day coming.

Lewis Brown would like to clear up the following matter which is not clear in the minds of a few who desire membership in this club. The Wilkwyck Golf Club is not sponsored by the city of Kingston and is not going to be a municipal course. It is a private club sponsored by many of the leading men of Kingston at Ulster county

Weather, partly cloudy.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature registered by the thermometer at Kingston last night was 54 degrees. The highest point reached up until noon today was 77 degrees.

Weather Forecast

Washington, June 22.—Eastern New York: Partly cloudy and cooler, followed by local showers and thunderstorms this afternoon, and early rain in extreme north portion. Friday night slowly falling temperature. The wind at Albany at 4 p. m. was west, velocity about miles an hour.

RAIN NEEDED TO REVIVE GARDENS AND GROWING CROPS

West Stockton, June 22.—People generally have been afforded a somewhat less sought opportunity to cool off from the period of terribly hot weather preceding last week. At various times and places came the report of frosts, as might readily have been expected even by those not deemed to be counted in the fold of the weather wise.

Even this week the weather man seems reluctant to open up the heating apparatus to any great extent. Rain continues a much to be desired element to revive withered gardens and growing crops generally. Various farmers are busy laying it along as no present indications favor further growth, and then perhaps once rain does come there may be no stopping the leaks. Just as with heat or cold an extreme may be looked to follow another in due season.

Navigation, Irrigation, Power And Flood Control

Residents of the 160,000-square mile basin of the Arkansas and its tributaries are hopeful that development similar to that authorized for the Tennessee valley will come their way. Navigation, irrigation, hydro-electric power projects and flood control are envisioned by proponents of the great undertaking. The widened areas on the river courses such as that near Little Rock are proposed reservoirs for the impounding of surplus water in flood control.

Hero Police Officer Has Relatives Here

Patrolman Charles Perkins, who distinguished himself by saving a family of three from a burning tenement house in New York city, is the son-in-law of Saul Longendyke of 551 Broadway, this city.

The heroism of Perkins created a sensation in the blue coat ranks of both precincts and fire houses. It was with the aid of Mr. Murray that the rescue was made. On finding the gap between the apartment buildings too wide to attempt jumping, Perkins climbed down the side of the adjoining tenement building on discovering a family of three standing on the third floor ledge of the burning structure.

Patrolman Perkins instructed Mr. Murray to hold his feet securely when they reached the fire escape opposite the ledge. Mr. Murray did so and Mr. Perkins swung his body across the chasm, saving first the daughter, then the mother and then the father. Perkins was praised much for the deed.

IT'S HIGH TIME FOR GASOLINE ADVERTISING TO COME DOWN TO EARTH

THE COLONIAL BEACON OIL COMPANY, INC., with its thousands of Colonial Esso Stations and Dealers, is helping to bring it down—to put gasoline advertising on a sensible basis. You cannot clothe yourself—or buy food for yourself—or run a car—on exaggerated advertising claims or misleading ratings of gasoline efficiency. But, if you believe the nonsense that seems to be the fashion in today's gasoline advertising, you can surely let yourself in for disappointment—and waste your money. We guarantee smoother performance. And remember, this guarantee comes from the Colonial Beacon Oil Company, Inc., a company which never sells a product over its name unless that product by every test, has proved its right to lead the field. This company, fully aware of its responsibility in making such a guarantee, stands squarely back of Essolene as a great advance over gasoline—a new goal for all gasolines to attain. We urge you to try it once—when your tank is cleared of other fuels. Do this—judge Essolene for yourself with no exaggerated claims and descriptions to confuse you, and we will rest our case on your decision. Essolene sells at regular gasoline price at Colonial Esso Stations and Dealers and is Colored Orange to Prevent Substitution. Copr. 1932, Esso, Inc.
